THE BODYBUILDER

Staying the course...

A couple weeks ago, my family went on our annual vacation. This year we went to Albuquerque, New Mexico to see our extended family and of course, to play in the mountains. We hiked and rode our bikes and enjoyed the coolness of the mountain air. It was great!

At the end of one of our hikes, our youngest son Gabriel was walking way ahead of us. As I watched him up ahead, he began to follow a path that slowly took him farther and farther away from our destination. From his perspective, he couldn't tell that the trail he was on was leading him away. I yelled for him but he couldn't hear my voice. He kept walking until I could no longer see him and I knew that if I didn't correct him he would continue walking and eventually get lost. I ran in his direction until I could see him again and he could hear me calling his name. He finally turned around, came back to me and we walked back together.

Paul's letter to the churches in Galatia begins with a similar urgency. He begins with a call for believers to turn back to the truth that some had abandoned. A problem many face even today. The spiritual journey we are on is distinct from all others. If we don't stay on course, our focus too, becomes skewed and we could eventually find ourselves in a place we don't want to be.

Living the way God intended for us to live takes work. As disciples of Christ we can find true joy in living out our faith daily in Him. Join us each Sunday as we are beginning a new sermon series this month from the book of Galatians entitled, Freedom, Living Your Faith in Christ.
