Timing...

A friend once told me that God is an 11:59 God. If we need something at midnight, He'll give it to us at 11:59, not hours before as we'd prefer. God promised Abraham a son; the promised son didn't come until 25 years later. God promised David that he would be king; David didn't take the throne until about 15 years later. God promised Jesus would return; Jesus still hasn't returned over 2000 years later. And God has called us to Burleson...

My point really is not about when God will complete our move. I trust Him (but I must admit I don't understand why He has not yet pulled all the pieces together!). What I must remember is that it doesn't require much faith on my part when God works in a way that the details make sense to me, when He does things the way I think they ought to be done. I can always trust His character, but I must also trust the details of His plan. And it is especially when I don't "get" the details that I must look with eyes of faith. What in your life do you need to see through eyes of faith?

"Now faith is the assurance of things hoped for, the conviction of things not seen." Hebrews 11:1
